Graduation Guidelines

Graduation depends on the valid marks scored in the examinations conducted at appropriate times after sufficient instruction has been provided. Passing and graduation are based upon the final examination and the percentage of marks scored in all the assignments.

Note: Students who achieve a below "C" grade point average are considered to have failed and will need to repeat the program until they have achieved a passing grade.

Grading

90 % - or higher	"A"
80% - 89%	"B"
70% - 79%	"C"
60% - 69%	"D"
59% or less	"F"

Note: Students who score a below "C" course grade are considered to have failed and will need to repeat the course again until they have completed it successfully.

Scoring Procedure

The scoring procedure is determined by successful completion of all take-home assignments and scheduled exams. The number of exams is dependent on the duration of the program. All courses have a minimum of a mid-term and final exam; programs with multiple modules require, on average, one exam per module. Take-home assignments are also dependent on program duration and require, on average, one take-home assignment per module. All exercises, specifically, take-home assignments and examinations, are combined and then averaged to produce a final program grade.

Attendance

Besides a grade of "C" or better, 80% attendance is MANDATORY to be considered for the graduation.

If a student acquires a sickness or gets into an accident that precludes them from attending classes via the established schedule, the student can retake the program at a later time without any penalty, or if the student wants to drop the program as a result of the aforementioned possibility than the refund policy process is applicable to them.

Student /Teacher Ratio

Aquarius Institute believes in providing quality training and individual attention to each of its students. As a result, Aquarius limits its classroom size to no more than 18 students - an 18:1 student to teacher ratio.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT STATEMENT

The courts have determined that sexual harassment is a form of discrimination under Title VII of the U.S. Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended in 1991.

Policy Statement:

It is the responsibility of each individual employee and program participant to refrain from sexual harassment, and it is the right of each individual employee and program participant to work in an environment free from sexual harassment.

Definition of Sexual Harassment:

According to the Illinois Human Rights Act, sexual harassment is defined as:

Any unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors or any conduct of a sexual nature when

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term of condition of an individual’s employment or program participation in a Aquarius Program,
2. Submissions to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or program participation decisions affecting such individual, or
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Other conduct commonly considered to be sexual harassment includes:

- Verbal: Sexual innuendos, suggestive comments, insults, humor and jokes about sex, anatomy – or gender – specific traits, sexual propositions, threats, repeated requests for dates, or statements about other employees, even outside of their presence, of a sexual nature.
- Non-verbal: Suggestive or insulting sounds (whistling), leering, obscene gestures, sexually suggestive bodily gestures, “catcalls,” “smacking” or “kissing” noises.
- Visual: Posters, signs, pin-ups or slogans of a sexual nature.
- Physical: Touching, unwelcome hugging or kissing, pinching, brushing the body, coerced sexual intercourse, or actual assault.

Sexual harassment most frequently involves a man harassing a woman. However, it can also involve a woman harassing a man or harassment between members of the same gender.

The most severe and overt forms of sexual harassment are easier to determine. On the other end of the spectrum, some sexual harassment is more subtle and depends to some extent on individual perception and interpretation. The trend in the courts is to assess sexual harassment by a standard of what would offend a “reasonable woman” or a “reasonable man,” depending on the gender of the alleged victim.

An example of the most subtle form of sexual harassment is the use of endearments. The use of terms such as “honey,” “darling,” and “sweetheart,” is objectionable to many women who believe that these terms undermine their authority and their ability to deal with men on an equal and professional level.

Responsibility of Individual Employees or Program Participants:

Each individual employee or program participant has the responsibility to refrain from sexual harassment in the workplace.

An individual or program participant who sexually harasses a program participant or fellow program participant is, of course, liable for his or her individual conduct.

The harassing employee or program participant will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including discharge or dismissal from employment or the program in accordance with the employment and/or program policy.

All Aquarius Institute students must refrain from sexual harassment and follow the policies set forth for the Aquarius Institute students. Students should read the details on sexual harassment found in this course catalog.

If any individual feels sexually harassed based on any of the above conditions by an Aquarius Institute student, that individual may file a complaint with the director of Aquarius Institute. The director of Aquarius Institute is Jameel Ahmed; he can be reached at (847) 296-8870. If any individual needs to file a complaint, the individual can do so by contacting the director of Aquarius Institute or by writing to Aquarius Institute at 1011 East Touhy Avenue Suite: 335 Des Plaines, IL 60018.

Information Updated: April, 2013

*Course of Instruction is defined as a stand-alone course that meets for an extended period of time and is directly creditable toward a certificate or other completion credential; individual courses that make up a Program of Study are not considered courses of instruction.

Note: As indicated in the PBVS Administrative Rules, Section 1095.200, student retention and graduation rates must be maintained that are appropriate to standards in the field. Furthermore, a State licensing examination or professional certification examination passage rate of at least 50% of the average passage rate for schools within the industry for any State licensing examination or professional certification examination must be maintained.

- In the event that the school fails to meet the minimum standards, that school shall be placed on probation.
- If that school's passage rate in its next reporting period does not exceed 50% of the average passage rate of that class of schools as a whole, then the Board shall revoke the school's approval for that program to operate in this State. Such revocation also shall be grounds for reviewing the approval to operate as an institution.
